Like all casino games, the Mines game is constructed with a house edge, though it is often lower than traditional slots, normally hovering between 1% and 3% depending upon the particular platform.

The mechanics rely greatly on combinatorics. As a gamer uncovers safe tiles without hitting a mine, the odds of hitting a mine on the next click increase due to the fact that the swimming pool of remaining tiles is smaller sized.

Example: Multiplier Progression

To illustrate how multipliers scale, think about a standard 5x5 grid (25 tiles overall) set to 3 Mines:

Number of Safe Tiles Opened	Approximate Multiplier (3 Mines)	Cumulative Probability of Success
1	~ 1.12 x	88.0%
3	~ 1.47 x	66.8%
5	~ 1.98 x	48.7%
10	~ 5.05 x	16.9%
15	~ 16.50 x	4.3%
20	~ 82.50 x	0.5%

(Note: Exact multipliers differ a little depending on the specific software company and their incorporated house edge calculations.)
