How the Game Works: Core Mechanics

To truly master the skies, a gamer should first comprehend the fundamental mechanics of the game. While specific functions can differ somewhat depending upon the specific platform hosting the game, the universal framework remains consistent.

The Flight Phase

As soon as a round starts, the airplane raises off the runway and begins its ascent. As it climbs, a multiplier counter begins ticking upward-- beginning at 1.00 x and continuing to rise. The longer the flight continues without incident, the greater the multiplier goes.

The Descent and Hazards

The skies are hardly ever clear. Along the flight course, various components appear that can either enhance the gamer's score or prematurely end the run. These can include beneficial tailwinds, fuel boosts, storm clouds, or abrupt altitude drops.

Cashing Out

The specifying mechanic of Avia Masters is the component of danger versus benefit. Players need to decide the optimum moment to "cash out" or secure their progress. Wait too long, and an abrupt danger may crash the plane, leading to a lost round. Cash out too early, and players may lose out on enormous multipliers.

Game Phase Description Gamer Action Pre-Flight Setting stakes or preparing the aircraft for launch. Location preliminary specifications or begin the round. Climb The aircraft takes off; multipliers start to climb up. Monitor the flight course and watch the multiplier grow. Mid-Flight Browsing hazards, gathering bonuses, and evaluating threat. Choose whether to hang on or secure the existing rating. Resolution The flight ends either through a successful cash-out or a crash. Gather benefits and prepare for the next round.
