How the Game of Mines Works

At its core, Mines is a game of danger management. Players exist with a grid (generally 5x5, producing 25 tiles in total). Underneath these tiles lie concealed stars (or gems) and hidden mines.

The goal is basic: uncover as lots of safe tiles as possible without striking a mine. Each safe tile exposed multiplies the player's preliminary bet. Players can choose to "cash out" at any time to secure their earnings, or they can press their luck for a greater multiplier. However, hitting even a single mine results in the forfeit of the present round's stake.

- Instant Cashout: Unlike standard slots where the outcome is simply passive, Mines puts control straight in the hands of the player. The decision of when to leave determines the outcome.
- Auto-Play and Strategy Tools: Most crypto casinos use automated functions, enabling players to implement betting strategies like Martingale or Fibonacci.
