Often Asked Questions (FAQ)

Are CSGO skins considered real cash?

Officially, Valve states that Steam Wallet funds and items have no real-world monetary worth and can not be lawfully redeemed for money through official channels. However, since third-party markets enable users to buy and sell skins for fiat currency, they have a recognized secondary-market value.

Why do platforms utilize bots?

Historically, bots were used to hold a pool of items so users could trade quickly. Due to recent constraints and trade-cooldown updates carried out by Valve, lots of platforms have transitioned to peer-to-peer (P2P) systems to bypass bot limitations.

Can I get VAC prohibited for utilizing a CSGO gambling site?

No. Valve's anti-cheat system (VAC) discovers software modifications running on your PC that provide unreasonable benefits in-game. Using a browser-based wagering platform will not lead to a VAC ban, though your Steam account could theoretically be impacted if associated with deceitful trade rings or commercial API abuse.
